About Community Services Work

Do roles such as community services worker, family support worker, outreach officer, group facilitator, client services assessor, or early intervention officer sound of interest to you?

Are you interested in a rewarding career in areas of settlement work, domestic violence, disability support, community development, working with children and young people, or working with people with alcohol and other drug issues?

These are some of the many areas our nationally accredited and recognised Certificate, Diploma, and Advanced Diploma courses in Community Services provide graduates with a broad range of skills in. Our courses gives students hands on industry experience by integrating both work placement and theoretical knowledge during their studies.

The broad depth of the course also allows entry level students to explore the community services work sector and choose an area to pursue.

089998B / CHC32015 CERTIFICATE III IN COMMUNITY SERVICES

About this course

This qualification is aimed at both new entrants to the Community Services sector. This qualification reflects the role of entry level community services workers who support individuals through the provision of person-centered services. Work may include day-to-day support of individuals in community settings or support the implementation of specific community-based programs.

The course consists of 12 units of competency ranging from case work, client services, community work, working with children and young people, working with people with alcohol and other drug issues, working with older people, working with people with disabilities and more.

Career and study pathway

Successful completion of this qualification may lead to further study such as the Diploma of Community Services, or employment in the community services sector such as a disability support worker, care worker, community services worker, community support worker, welfare worker, welfare support worker or family support worker.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, a Certificate III in Community Services will be issued. Students will gain knowledge of a variety of services and interventions in a range of contexts. Students may continue onto the Diploma of Community Services or gain employment within the industry.

Program Structure

All units of competency are to be taught separately due to the wide range of possible combinations available. This allows for students to choose units which do not overlap with other units they have chosen, or have already completed.

Forms of assessment may include: written tasks, multiple choice tests, projects/assignments/reports, feedback given and response, role plays and questioning/interview/discussion. This may vary per unit of competency.

Distance Study

The distance study program is available for all Community Services courses.

Distance study is done by completing your course work externally. This study mode is not available for international students studying in Australia on a student visa.

Who is distance study for?

The distance study option is available for those who live in remote or distant areas or for those who are looking to study while working full-time. It is also suited to those looking for a flexible study option as it provides the opportunity to study and learn at your own pace.

Is support still available while I study?

There is still study support available for this mode of study. A designated trainer will be available to respond to any questions or queries you have during your studies. Correspondence is generally provided through email unless another form of electronic communication is preferred.

How does distance study work?

There is a maximum duration set for each course, and assessment for each unit of competency must be submitted and marked competent within the maximum time frame given. This requires prioritising your time so that you can complete all the units within the maximum time frame. If you need more time to complete your studies, we can look at options to extend your course end date.

What happens when I complete my course?

Once you complete the units of competency and have received confirmation from the college that you have completed your course requirements, you will be sent a Course Completion Form. Once the form has been filled out and returned to the college, you will be issued your Certificate of Completion and Academic Transcript up to 14 days from the date we finish processing your form.
